

CANINE GOOD CITIZEN GOLD

We offer the Canine Good Citizen Gold Test as required and set out by the Kennel Union of Southern Africa.

Before the GOLD certificate is issued, all the following Tests must have been passed. Dogs may be tested singly or in groups.

Test 1 Road work

This is to demonstrate that the dog has the ability to walk on lead beside the handler and for the handler to determine the speed of the walk. The Test should be carried out in a suitable outdoor location and an occasional tight lead will be acceptable. The handler and dog should walk along the pavement, execute a turn, and then stop at a curb where the dog should remain steady and controlled. On command from the Evaluator they should proceed observing the traffic code. When reaching the other side they should turn and continue walking making a few changes of pace from normal to slow or fast walking pace. The handler and dog will return across the road to the starting point of the exercise. Distractions should be incorporated to include passing vehicles or bicycles, people, wheelchairs, prams, pushchairs etc.

Note: The turns are only a test of ability to change direction.

Test 2 Return to handler's side

This is to demonstrate that the handler is able to bring the dog back under close control during a walk off lead. With the dog off lead and not less than ten (10) paces away, upon instruction from the Evaluator, the dog will be called back to the walking handlers side and both should continue together under control for approximately ten paces.

Note: The dog moving loosely at the handler's side, but under control, is quite acceptable and there should not be a halt to complete the Test.

Test 3 Walk free beside handler

This is to demonstrate that the dog is able to walk free next to the handler as when walking in a park. This is not a heelwork, but a Test of control while the dog is off lead walking next to the handler for approximately forty paces. The dog should be in a near proximity to the handler. Two changes of direction will take place and there will be a distraction of another handler passing with a dog on lead. When instructed by the Evaluator the dog will be placed on lead as a finish of the Test.

Note: The changes of direction of direction are right and left turns without formality.

Test 4 Stay down in one place

This is to demonstrate that the dog will remain down on the spot while the handler moves away for two (2) minutes both in and out of sight. The stay will be tested off lead and the handlers should place their dogs in the down position. During the Test the handler will be requested to move out of sight for thirty (30) seconds. While in sight the handlers will be approximately ten (10) paces away from their dogs.

Note: The dogs should remain in the down position in one spot.

Test 5 Send the dog to bed

This is to demonstrate that the handler has control over the dog that might be required in the home. The handler will provide the dog's bed, mat or an article of clothing etc. The handler should place the dogs in a place determined by the Evaluator. The handler will stand approximately ten (10) paces away from the bed. Upon instruction from the Evaluator, the handler will send the dog to bed where the dog will remain until the Evaluator is satisfied that the dog is settled.

Note: The dog is not being sent to bed in disgrace. Where possible this Test should be conducted indoors. The bed used should be situated for the under test and no inducement e.g. toys of food should be used.

Test 6 Stop the dog

This is to demonstrate that the handler has the ability to stop the dog at a distance in an emergency situation. With the dog off lead and at a distance of not less than ten (10) paces away the handler will be instructed by the Evaluator to stop the dog on the spot in any position.

Note: The dog is expected to respond immediately to the stop command, but if moving at speed, will be allowed a reasonable distance to come to a stop.

Test 7 Relaxed isolation

This is to demonstrate that the dog is relaxed when left in isolation. During such times the dog should not become agitated, unduly restful or defensive. The handler should fasten the dog to an approximate two (2) meter line and then move out of sight for two (2) to five (5) minutes as directed. Any number of dogs can be tested at the same time provided there is sufficient room between the dogs. It is acceptable for the dogs to move around during isolation, however should the dog whine, howl, bark or indulge in any disruptive activities it may not pass the Test.

Note: Dogs should be tested for their relaxed behaviour in isolation without any prior controls being imposed by the handler before leaving. This is not a stay exercise, but handlers may settle their dogs before leaving. This is a practical test and no inducements e.g. blankets, toys or food should be used during this test.

Test 8            Food manners

This is to demonstrate that the dog can be fed in an orderly manner. The handler will offer food to the dog either by hand or in a bowl. The dog must wait for permission to eat. After a three (3) to five (5) second pause the handler will be asked to give the dog an eating release cue.

Note: The dog should not eat until given permission, however if attempting to do so, it is acceptable for the handler to restrain the dog by voice alone.

Test 9            Examination of the dog

This is to demonstrate that the dog will allow inspection by a stranger as might be undertaken by a veterinary surgeon. The dog on lead will be required to be placed for inspection of mouth, throat, eyes, ears and feet when standing, sitting or lying down as required. Other than mild avoidance the dog should allow inspection without concern.

Note: It is the responsibility of the training officials/evaluator to ensure that only suitable dogs take this test. A table may be used for those dogs which are customarily examined on a table.

Test 10          Care and responsibility

This is to demonstrate that the handler. Topics covered include; Health and Welfare of dogs, Local By-Laws, Responsible Ownership and Training. The questions should not be phrased in an ambiguous manner and where necessary Evaluators should rephrase the question in an attempt to bring out the correct answer from the handler. At the start of each training course handlers should be given the KUSA Code of Ethics and Responsibility and Care Document.

Note: The handler should be able to give six (6) out of ten (10) correct answers from the Care and Responsibility Document Section 2.

CANINE GOOD CITIZEN GOLD CARE & RESPONSIBILITY

We offer the Canine Good Citizen Gold Test as required and set out by the Kennel Union of Southern Africa.

The object is to test the knowledge of the handler on the subject of his responsibility and care of his canine companion.

When the Evaluator is questioning the handler from the KUSA Code of Ethics or the Care and Responsibility document, the questions should not be phrased in an ambiguous manner and, where necessary the Evaluators should rephrase the question in an attempt to bring out the correct answer from the handler.

Note: Only one numbered item may constitute a question.

The handler should be able to give six (6) out of ten (10) correct answers.

CARE AND RESPONSIBILITY – SECTION 2

1. Health

A dog owner should be aware of a dog's needs and rights and they are:

- 1.1. Vaccinations – Most veterinary surgeons will administer the first vaccinations at six (6) to eight (8) weeks. They will advise when the dog can be allowed on the street, parks or mix with other dogs. Discuss with your veterinary surgeon the necessary vaccinations and frequency of boosters.
- 1.2. Fleas – Fleas are usually found around the neck and abdomen of a dog. Owners should regularly look for signs of fleas or their droppings, which appear to be black and no bigger than a grain of sand. There are various products, which effectively deal with fleas and veterinary advice should be sought.
- 1.3. Ticks – Careful control to prevent a tick infestation must be undertaken. Just one bite from an infected tick can pass biliary. Immediate veterinary advice should be taken if your dog is lethargic, has loss of appetite and has pale gums or eye membranes.

2. Worming

Round worms and tape worms are common in dogs.

- 2.1. Roundworms – there are many kinds of roundworms, but Toxocara is the most common. They are a round white worm between 75 and 150mm long. When born nearly all puppies carry Toxocara canis as their mother will have transferred it to them. Badly infested puppies may pass worms in their faeces or vomit and often appears to be pot-bellied. The eggs of Toxocara canis can survive for years, therefore great care should be taken in cleaning up after a worm infested puppy or dog.
- 2.2. Tapeworms – Tape worms are not so common and are less often found in puppies. However, they should be treated. Tapeworms can be very long, but usually small segments, which resemble rice grains, may be found in the faeces.
- 2.3. Medication – when worms are evident the dog must promptly be given the correct medication. Normal advice is every four (4) to six (6) months, but pregnant bitches and puppies more frequently. Take veterinary advice about dosing and about preventing future infestation.

3. Out and about

- 3.1. Chasing – Never allow a dog to chase anything as it raises its predatory instinct.
- 3.2. Awareness – Ensure you know where your dog is and what he is doing at all times. Also be alert to any possible situation where the dog may cause a problem.
- 3.3. Leaving the area – neither you nor your dog should leave anything behind including the dog's faeces.

4. Miscellaneous

Dog owners and non-dog owners have the right to live side by side. There are, however laws which must be followed. They are made to safeguard the environment for the benefit of everybody.

- 4.1. Identification – All dogs must normally wear a collar and carry the name and address of the owner when in a public place.
- 4.2. Fouling – It is inconsiderate and unhygienic not to clear up dog faeces and in some areas an offence punishable by a fine.
- 4.3. Frightening and out of control dogs – If a dog is dangerously out of control in a public place, the owner, or the person for the time being in charge of the dog, is guilty of an offence. It is not necessary that the dog injures, merely that there is reasonable grounds for believing that it will injure. Penalties may be as follows:
  - 4.3.1. An order that the dog is kept under proper control.
  - 4.3.2. A fine.
  - 4.3.3. Destruction of the dog.
  - 4.3.4. A ban on keeping dogs in future.
  - 4.3.5. Imprisonment.
- 4.4. Stray dogs – A dog should be kept in a secure garden and never be allowed in the street unsupervised. A stray dog can be picked up and impounded at an animal shelter, where it is properly fed and maintained. In order to redeem the dog a fee (donation) is normally required. Any dog not claimed within 14 days is destroyed or rehomed.
- 4.5. Local dog control measures – local authorities are empowered to make local rules known as byelaws. Byelaws have the force of the law and create criminal offenses. Dog control byelaws can restrict the number of dogs allowed to be on a property and also ban dogs from certain sensitive areas.
- 4.6. Unnecessary suffering – It is an offence for an owner to cause unnecessary suffering to their dog or permit anyone else to do so. This includes failing to provide water, food, shelter and necessary veterinary attention.
- 4.7. Abandoning – Temporary and/or permanent abandonment of a dog that causes suffering is an offence.

4.8. Dogs and food outlets – By law, dogs are not allowed into restaurants or shops that sell food etc. If the dog is of sound temperament and will not feel threatened if approached, it may be left tied outside. However, the best way to avoid any problems is not to have the dog with you when going to a food outlet.

4.9. Medical treatment – It can be an offence for someone other than a veterinary surgeon, to provide medical treatment to a dog other than an emergency first aid.

4.10. Dogs knocked down by vehicles – The owner of the dog is responsible for the damage caused to the vehicle and the dog's veterinary bills.

4.11. Insurance claims – if a dog causes injury or damage to a person or property, the injured party can make a claim against the dog's owner. Often household contents policies cover third private claims, but it is wise to check. You may wish to consider additional insurance to cover veterinary bills.

5. The Psychology of learning

5.1. Learning by habit

5.1.1. A dog learns by habit, therefore he is likely to repeat an experience that was pleasurable and avoid an experience that was not.

5.1.2. Every time he does something the habit becomes more ingrained. Therefore, we should encourage and praise the good habits and discourage the bad habits.

5.2. Inconsistency – Inconsistency causes confusion. If a dog learns by habit, our praise or discouragement allied to the dog's habit must be prompt and consistent to advance the learning process. When play and learning are linked the result is a happy dog.

5.3. Analyzing problems – When there is a problem with your dog's training, do not immediately work at the symptom. Instead try to think like a dog to find the cause of any problem before trying to reverse it.

5.4. Teaching disobedience – If a dog learns by habit, then it is easy to teach disobedience. To continually repeat commands that a dog disobeys is therefore to teach disobedience to that command.

5.5. Natural learning – When a dog performs naturally an act that is desirable to us i.e. sitting when we stop walking. If we consistently add the appropriate command to the dog's natural action, the dog will learn to obey the command as a matter of course.

5.6. Punishment – Never hit your dog, your hand should only be used to praise or pat your dog. Hitting a dog only inflicts pain and it is not a form of punishment understood by a dog.
